Economics—Course Aims

Students will get the opportunity to study the highly relevant and complex subject that is Economics. The subject has a fast moving curriculum given the relevancy of economic issues such as government economic policy, global economics and its impact on society.

Students are expected to understand the modern world and take an interest in current affairs. Wider study or articles, blogs and key issues supports students in their learning. Given this, Economics is suited to students with a natural curiosity for the world around them. The study of issues at a local, national and international level grow students understanding of important issues and concepts such as cause and effect.

Broad areas of study include markets and business as well as national and global economies. Assessments is entirely exam based and students should welcome the challenge of expressing their idea in evaluative and analytical writing.
