Half Term and Week Commencing 5th of June

The Week ahead

Well done to all our year 11s for having made it through the first half of their exams. They have worked hard and it is great to see how positive they have been with some of their exams. Over the next week there are many revision sessions being provided by the school, and obviously they can manage their own revision. It is a good idea to put in relaxation breaks and find time to do things they enjoy but in moderation. There are only a few weeks left and there is plenty of time then for bigger celebrations. It is the final stretch and they are nearly done. Here is a reminder of things to come over Half Term, study leave plans and the week commencing the 5th of June.

Study Leave

Morning Exams: Students still need to be in as usual and registering promptly with their tutor so we know we have them here and ready to begin their exams. Turning up and going straight to the exam causes a few issues so please register in tutor.

Afternoon Exams: If students have a morning and afternoon exam it's best they stay in school unless otherwise agreed so we know where they are. If they only have an afternoon exam, they sign in at least half an hour prior to the exam.

Signing out: If leaving site after an exam, students sign out. This is a safe guarding concern and is needed in case of a fire alarm.

Buses: The school buses will run at the usual times. We cannot hold the buses and they won't do extra runs at different times. We ask that students who need to leave early or have exams that finish after the busses go make alternative arrangements. We can try and support. (but not if we are told on that morning).
